

Carl's Birth

Carl was born in the Hall House on March 3, 1928, at 12:05 a. m. said that two white birds (doves) landed on the windowsill and kept pecking on the glass. These birds made desperate attempts to enter the house. It is highly unusual that birds should be awake at midnight, attempting to gain entry into a house!

Then after daybreak, a red bird tried to get into the house. The following day another bird with many bright colored feathers appeared. None of the family knew what type of bird it was, because they had never seen one like it.

Alvie wanted to move again, however, Goldie had lost so much weight, and was so exhausted, that she put her foot down and refused to move. She said, "I am staying right here. I don't care what happens!"

Alvie Hewett, Carl's father